

OIL FIELD ORGANIZER GIVES HOT STATEMENT

Big Ed Welch Says He Was "Jobbed" at First Trial, Says Drumright Mayor Is Afraid to Testify.

Big Ed Welch, organizer of the Oil Field Workers, in the Drumright-Oilton-Cushing fields, said alleged to be the instigator of the Drumright riot of September 22, is not going to jail, willingly.

While in Tulsa yesterday between trains, he told Tulsa men whom he met at Drumright, that he was going to appeal from the verdict of conviction November 6 in the Creek county district court at Sapulpa. Welch was held guilty by the jury of riot, and sentenced to 30 days in jail, and pay a fine of $100.

"They made a lot of job of sticking me for something that I am as innocent of as you are," declared Welch. "And my appeal has already been filed at Sapulpa. Judge Louie B. Wright has reduced my bond to $500 and I'm going back to Drumright to resume my work and also dig up new evidence. I can find for my own new trial, and that of the nine other men jointly accused with me of inciting the Drumright riot."

"Tried to Job Me," he remarked, "and thought that rough stuff would force me to leave the field so they might job others, but I'm made of different stuff."

Welch declared that the evidence adduced at his trial has already revealed strong traces of a "frameup." In this he referred to the testimony of John Hater, city councilman of Drumright, who at the preliminary testified that Welch had dismissed Ary, while at the trial he corrected his testimony that it was another of the defendants who did so, and on cross-examination admitted that he did not know who dismissed the police chief.

W. E. Nicodemus, the mayor of Drumright, did not testify at the Sapulpa trial, and on this matter, Welch ventured:

"He knew better than to take the stand, for we would have laid naked before the court and jury his yellow soul."

Welch said that the 19 telephone girls who declared strike against the Southwestern Bell Telephone company on September 20, and which caused the riot two nights later, were gaining favor with the Drumright business men and many were ordering the phones from their stores as a protest against the alleged unfair wage paid the girls.

DODSON SOUNDS CALOMEL'S DOOM

The "Liver Tone" Man Warns Folks Against the Sickening, Salivating Drug.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you lose a day.

Calomel is mercury! When it comes into contact with your bile, it crashes into it, breaking it up. Then is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. It so ruins the liver, it is torpid and bowels constipated, or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up, and make you feel fine and vigorous, go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it can not salivate or make you sick.—Advt.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

FOR THE RELIEF OF

Coughs, Colds, CROUP.

WHOOPIING COUGH, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS.

THIS REMEDY CONTAINS NO NARCOTIC

Manufactured by Chamberlain Medicine Co., Manufacturing Pharmacists, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A.

PRICE, THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

(Copyrighted by Chamberlain & Co., Inc.)

Tulsa Preacher Thinks of Lazarus in Talking of Y.W.

Business men, professional men, bankers, and in fact men engaged in all walks of life are vitally interested themselves this week in the successful prosecution of the financial campaign which has for its object adequate financing of the Y. M. C. A. for the coming year's work.

"The Y. M. C. A. is at the present time," said Rev. C. W. Kerr, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, "in the same condition Lazarus found himself when Christ raised him from the dead. Christ's first command was to 'lose his bonds.' The Y. M. C. A. is alive but bound down by debt. We must this week loosen these bonds so that the institution can do the work contemplated by its founders."

The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

"The campaign simply must be made a success," said J. M. Berry, president of the Central National bank. "The money must be raised and that is all there is to it. The building is of no use unless it is properly furnished. The welfare of the girls of our city must be one of our first concerns. Every man in the city should give and give liberally."

"Tulsa has not yet fallen down on any undertaking of the importance to the city as the proper functioning of the Y. M. C. A.," was the statement of A. L. Farmer. "In financing the campaign that made the Y. M. C. A. a reality the women rendered most valuable service. The men of the city will surely not fail them now in making their Y. M. C. A. the most important institution of its kind in the south-west."

"Every Kiwanian is a Y. M. C. A. booster," said Albert H. Bell, president of the Kiwanis club. "I believe I voice the sentiment of the civic clubs of the city when I assure the ladies that we are with them to a man. Of course we are going to put this campaign over."

GOVERNMENT GIVING FISH TO OKLAHOMA

Expert Here With Carload of Fry Tribe Says Oil Could Be Eliminated From Streams.

"If the tanneries of the south can install special machinery that converts waste material—liquids and solids—into a profitable by-product without polluting the streams nearby, it appears to the government that the refineries and oil companies could do likewise. Hundreds of small streams in Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and Louisiana, the natural habitat of fish are devoid of fish because of the oil pollution, which we believe could be eliminated."

So declared Edgar C. Fearnow, superintendent of the car and messenger service of the bureau of fisheries, United States department of commerce, who is here with fish-eries car 8, distributing fish of five different types in lakes, ponds, creeks and streams of northeastern Oklahoma, viz. black bass, crappie, blue gill sunfish, catfish and carp.

Captain E. K. Burnham is directly in charge of the car, the newest that the bureau has, and this being its first trip, Superintendent Fearnow is accompanying it for the purpose of observing how the numerous conventions the department has secured, work out, so that they may be eliminated or retained.

Both Superintendent Fearnow and Captain Burnham commented on the odd fact that only carp will live in certain ponds in northeastern Oklahoma, particularly Ottawa and Delaware counties. As a result the car contains a lot of carp.

Women will welcome these refreshing blouses of fine white linen in tailored styles with high necks. One model is of the regulation shirt style, another has tucked front.

They have just been received direct to us from an eastern maker of high grade blouses, choose yours early.

Third Floor.

Third Floor.

Third Floor.

Third Floor.